Appendix

The opioid epidemic is a tragedy on a national scale

U.S. healthcare providers write 191 million prescriptions for opioid pain medication per year creating a national crisis with disastrous consequences.

Overprescribed

Despite guidelines to limit opioids as a first approach, 45% of those prescriptions were written by a PCP.

Ineffective

Prescription medication relieves pain in only 58% of chronic pain sufferers.

Costly

$78.5 billion in annual costs related to opioid misuse.

Deadly

More than 11 million Americans misuse opioids each year and 17,000 die of overdose.
